

Beech Hill to Star on TV Again

It's no wonder we are all looking happy – Beech Hill is soon to be featuring on TV again!

We were picked as one of the locations for a new cookery series – 'The Fabulous Food Adventure' - which will be featured on UTV later this year.

We cannot disclose the details at this stage but as you can guess from our photograph, the programme is going to be one that raises more than a few smiles. And with famed jokers like boxer Barry McGuigan taking part, that's no surprise. So watch this space, or keep an eye on the TV schedules, for further details.

Among those in our picture are celebrity chefs Simon McCance and Michael Deane (first and second left). Barry McGuigan is second from the right and behind him is singer Paul Young. Beech Hill's Patsy O'Kane is centre stage, and the ones in white are the hotel's own star chefs.
