

Sunday 7 September 2008 at 7.30 pm
Beech Hill Country House Hotel

A Dinner Date with Kevin
McAleer

"He's so funny it hurts" The Sunday Times

"Changes the standards by which stand-up is judged." The Telegraph

Highly surreal and wickedly funny, Kevin McAleer brings his dexterous word play and wild flights of fancy to one of Derry's finest establishments.

Taking place in the Beech Hill Marquee, in the stunning hotel gardens, this unique event includes a sumptuous evening banquet, dancing and live music. Kevin McAleer invites comparison with the best of Flann O'Brien and Samuel Beckett but with a twist that is very much pure McAleer. Delivering a blisteringly funny stream of (non)sense, this is comic performance at the highest level from one of Ireland's comedy legends. Unmissable.

Tickets: £30 (includes sumptuous banquet)
Playhouse Box Office: 028 7126 8027
Online at: www.wegottickets.com