

Patsy O’Kane, Beech Hill’s proprietor, proudly shows off the framed ‘Highly Commended’ certificate which was presented to the hotel at the annual North of Ireland Tourist Board Awards ceremony in Belfast.

The cream of Northern Ireland’s tourism industry attended the sparkling event and applauded Beech Hill’s success in the Tourist Board’s ‘Best Hotel’ category.

Said Patsy: “This award is a reflection of the professionalism and skill shown by all our staff in making sure that every visitor to Beech Hill enjoys a truly warm Irish country house experience, food that is memorable and a completely restful and relaxing ambience. We are naturally very pleased that our efforts to improve the experiences of international and domestic tourists has been recognised.”
